

SPONSOR WELLNESS IN 2022-23

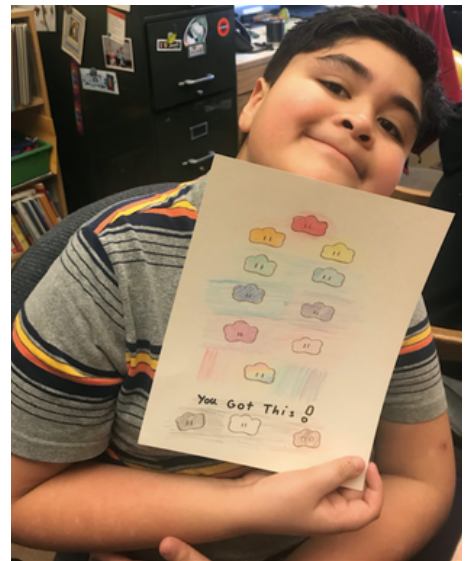

OK You's mission to bring more OKness to the world has never been more relevant than it is today. We develop free projects, creative rituals and artistic resources for schools, families, therapeutic settings, and youth-supporting organizations that provide ideas, tools and practices to help young people find and sustain their inner OKness.

Our organization nurtures youth voice through our youth councils, our commitment to mentoring and supporting school counselors and their students, our family workshops and our retail OK Kit: "A pocket-sized DIY kit to bring you back to your OK self."

Over time, the stories we tell ourselves create neuropathways traveled so often they become our truth. The good news:

We can change our stories.

"We support OK YOU because we believe this program offers a fresh & powerful way for kids to manage their anxiety."

- Christina Volgyesi, VP of Marketing, Dr. Bronner's

OK You's Big Show of Emotions is a fundraiser and premiere showcase of the creative potential of emotions like anxiety, sadness, anger, and joy. Focusing on how to create and sustain inner-OKness, artists and creative partners of OK You will take to the stage to share creative gifts birthed from their big and complex emotions.
